RECOMMENDATION

Approval. There are multiple metal roof examples within the district including the recently approved "The Underground" addition, the Gold Museum itself, the Smith House and city owned facilities. There are probably fourteen or more examples of metal roofs within the district. Given this fact it cannot be said that asphalt is the dominant roof material in the district. The subject structure is relatively new to the district and far less than fifty years old so there is no true historic precedent for the specific property. The guidelines such as Section 4.5.2 would suggest for historic structures the goal would be to replicate the original roof, but in this case the building is relatively new to the district and does not have true contributing historical significance. Hence either asphalt or metal would be appropriate and would assure compatibility with the district's ambiance. The applicant should be encouraged to select a color compatible with other metal roofs in the historic district.

SUGGESTED MOTIONS
